As a guest, Vanessa Gordon never misses a beat. Her interviews and informative sessions have a raw energy and humorous undertone, entwined with a fierce yet relatable personality. This busy mother of two loves every aspect of her career as a Publisher and creative writer, and it shines through her words. She has traveled to every corner of the world and most recently, spent a month living and working in the UK.

Quite simply, she says it like it is and never holds back.

“Vanessa Gordon is nothing short of charming, personable, and lovely. Working with her was such a breeze—she replied to emails quickly, contributed awesome ideas for our content, and was so authentic in our interview. My audience absolutely loved her! I'd highly recommend working with Vanessa.

- Lauren Lapid,
Rookies in the Real World Podcast

“Vanessa was a wonderful guest on my travel podcast where she shared her inside tips for the best things to do in The Hamptons. She shared incredible suggestions for local restaurants and actionable tips to ensure my listeners would have a great time when they visited the East End of Long Island.
